GRADE NOTES

The third grade has the flag this week. Miss Merrill is again teaching after her sickness.

Beatrice Silverthorn has left the Kindergarten.

The Kindergarten visited the High school last Friday afternoon.

The sixth, seventh and eighth grades are preparing a play, "Miles Standish," for Thanksgiving.

Miss Wood, to several of the girls: "If you don't get to work, I will send you into Mr. Drouyor and put you under his nose for a while. Remember: 'But what if he should sneeze?'"

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

We wonder why Hilton insists that two Juniors make an ideal match. The Physics class has commenced the study of the mechanics of gases.

Hereafter Neil intends to go by freight instead of expressing himself. There is some talk of organizing a high school orchestra. Here's hoping.

NOTICE—Hilton and Roy please remember your last periods twice a week.

The American history class is now studying the Constitution of the United States.

Harry A. "Do you keep that fire going all the time?" Storekeeper—"No, the coal does."

FOUND—A love match between a Junior and Freshman. Inquire of Vera or Merle.

Owing to the appearance of Charley Chaplin at the Princess Theatre Tuesday night, several of the Senior girls were unable to practice the play.

The Seniors have commenced practice on their play "At the End of the Rainbow," which they expect to present to the public sometime before Christmas.

Yale High School was again defeated last Friday, 27 to 7. At the end of the first half, the score stood 7 to 0 in Yale's favor. "Big" Beadle having made a touchdown on North Branch's only punt after which VanNorman kicked a difficult goal. However, during the last half, owing to the injury of Sweet, North Branch seemed to do about as they pleased. Undoubtedly this is the last game of the season, unless arrangements can be made for a game with the alumni.

OBITUARY.

William A. Holden, whose sudden death at Standish we briefly noticed last week, was born in Stratford, September 24, 1864. While still a young boy he came with his parents to Michigan, settling on a farm east of Yale. He was married to Miss Edna Bates, of Burnside in 1890, and two children were born to them, Nita, Mrs. Otis Pringle, of Port Huron, and Creighton of Detroit.

Mr. Holden was in the business of cattle buying for some time, later going into the meat market, both in Yale and afterwards in Brown City, where he moved his family. About three years ago he purchased the large dining hall at Huronia Beach, making many improvements to this attractive place. He was also in partnership with his brother John in a large cattle ranch near Gladwin.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge of Brown City and also of the Maccabees and Oddfellows of Yale.

Deceased had long been a sufferer from some form of stomach trouble and medical attention gave him little relief.

The funeral services were held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Otis Pringle, in Port Huron on Friday of last week, under the auspices of the Masonic lodge, Rev. R. T. Kilpatrick, a close friend of the deceased, preaching the sermon. Interment in Lakeside cemetery.

Good Plays Every Week.

Since Cavanagh Bros. purchased the Princess Theatre the lovers of the "movies" have been treated to some of the best there is in the show line. The people of Yale are showing their appreciation of this fact by greeting the pictures with good crowds.

On Tuesday evening next "Caprice" a delightful comedy-drama of society, love and the great outdoors, will be shown on the screen, featuring Mary Pickford, the most popular girl in the world.

The theatre is open three nights in the week—Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday—and those who attend are sure of a first-class show.

Friend Jim:—

Find $2.00 enclosed for Expositor. We cannot keep house without it. The only thing I wish you would look after is to be prompt in sending the paper each week, because if Mrs. Armstrong does not get it Saturday she appears grouchy all day Sunday, or until it arrives to ward off the blues.

Yours, W. N. Armstrong

On Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 23 and 24, I will hold a big sale of men's and ladies' fur coats. A representative from one of the leading fur houses of Michigan will be here during this sale. J. L. Rosenthal.

The ladies of Yale and West Brookway will hold a union bazaar December 10 and 11 in the Yale Methodist Protestant church parlors. Fancy articles and home baking will be sold. 4

Work of County Agriculturist

During the week ending Nov. 13th calls were made at the farms of Chas. and Robert Folkert, J. D. Hill and H. A. Basney in Clay township; Barney Zoble and Ernest Clark in China township; Orville Lindsay in Casco; Edward Robins and Adolph Bench in Clyde and Russell Dunning in Huronville.

A very successful farmers' club meeting was attended at the home of Fred Myers in Ira township, on Wednesday November 10th. Reading by Willis Richardson, a report by Chas. Folkert of the State Standard School which has recently been dedicated in Clay township, and a discussion of potato diseases and other matters regarding rural organizations by the County Agent were features of the program. About thirty members were present from Ira, Clay, Cottrellville and Casco townships, and the spirit of co-operation and the hearty welcome manifested by them are highly prized by this office, and it will be our purpose to attend future meetings of the Starville Club and render all the assistance possible.

Thursday was occupied with a trip to the western part of the county with Frank Werkmeister, Adolph Bench and Edward Robins of Clyde township. These men were all interested in dairying, and the inspection of Alvin Baldwin's herd of registered Jerseys constituted one of the main objects of the excursion. The farms of Geo. Chapman, Albert Tosch and F. A. Peltz of Mussey and Daniel Foley of Emmett were also visited during the day. A tractor equipped with a four-bottom plow was of peculiar interest at the latter place. The fact that Mr. Foley has plowed a large acreage of heavy soil on his farm in a very dry condition during the past few weeks with the tractor demonstrated conclusively its practicability at least on the large farms of the county.

C. L. Brody, County Agent

Just the Right Present.

Don't take chances in the matter of presents. You don't want yours, like so many others, to be received with indifference or worse, and ten days after Christmas to be cast aside and forgotten.

You will take no such chance in giving the Youth's Companion.

Did you ever know of a home in which it came amiss, or of one in which it was not conspicuous on the library table or in some one's hands all through the year?

It is worth while to make a gift of that sort, and it is worth while to receive it, too, for The Companion illustrates the best traits in American life in its stories and sketches, upholds the best standards in its articles and and other contributions, and combines the practical and informing with the entertaining and blood-stirring.

If you do not know The Companion as it is today, let us send you one or two of the current issues free, that you may thoroughly test the paper's quality. We will send also the forecast for 1916.

Every new subscriber who sends $2 for the fifty-two weekly issues of 1916 will receive free all the issues for the rest of 1915 and The Companion Home Calendar for 1916.

Railroad News

J. H. Allerdyce of Detroit, representing the Detroit, Armada & Northern R. R., in company with Wesley Dudley of Armada, were in Yale Wednesday calling on our business men and citizens and talking with them regarding the extension of the railroad from Armada to Yale and on north.

These gentlemen were going over the proposed route and left here for Peck after dinner.

Mr. Allerdyce informs us that he hopes to hold a mass meeting in Yale in the near future, when representatives of the railroad company will be present.

Masonic School of Instruction

The members of Elk Lodge, No. 353, F. & A. M., are making arrangements for a gala time on Monday, Nov. 29, the date of the school of instruction announced in these columns several weeks ago. Grand Lecturer Gilbert of Bay City will be present.

A train will run from Peck to Sandusky after the lodge closes and a large number from that city will attend as Outer lodge will confer one of the degrees. The train will stop at Watertown for those who wish to be present. It is probable that members of the order will also be present from Brown City, Yale and Crosswell.—Peck Times.

Smith's Livery Sold

On Tuesday of this week R. E. Smith disposed of his livery business to Donald Chisholm of Flynn township, who will take James Brown in with him as partner, and possession will be given next Monday. The new firm intend to make a number of changes in the equipment and will conduct an up-to-date livery.

Mr. Chisholm has rented part of Mrs. Stark's house on Wood street and will move his family to Yale next week.

Bazaar

Wednesday, December 1, is the day set for the Bazaar in the Presbyterian church. There will be various booths filled with fancy work, staple articles, such as aprons of all kinds, corset covers, pillow slips, towels, etc., a candy counter, home made baking and a rummage sale. Be sure and give your patronage to this bazaar.

Richmond Elevator

On Monday of last week a bill was filed in the Circuit Court of Macomb county in chancery by Bert C. Preston, trustee of The Richmond Elevator Co., in which he sets forth that he has sold the larger part of the several elevator plants belonging to the company and that he desires to pay a dividend to the creditors. He asks the court to authorize the payment and to determine who are creditors, the amount of their claims and who, if any, are entitled to preference.

It is alleged in the bill that the creditors are scattered over the United States and that he has been unable to adjust the amount of the claims of several and that a number of them claim preference. He asks the instruction of the court as to the disposition of the trust fund.—Lenox Standard.

Holden-Davidson

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Belle Harriett Davidson to Creighton W. Holden of Port Huron, was made at a dinner given by the bride-elect's parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davidson, 2591 West Grand Boulevard, Detroit, Saturday.

Creighton is the son of the late William A. Holden and Mrs. Holden of Port Huron and is well known in Yale.

Piano Tuning.

I will be in Yale the fore part of December. If any one missed having their piano tuned during my last trip, now is the time to leave your order at the Expositor office.
